2021 Workers' Memorial Week Action & Storytelling Tool Kit April 24 - May 3

OVERVIEW:

During Workers' Memorial Week, we remember those who have lost their lives, been injured, or suffered illnesses at work, and to renew their fire to fight for safe workplaces. During this time, unions, surviving family members, and health and safety activists nationwide around the world come together to take action. This is a week of action planned around Workers' Memorial Day, which is commemorated on April 28 each year.

In many ways, this year is the biggest Workers' Memorial Week our movement has planned! While all other workplace-related injuries, illnesses, and fatalities still persist, millions of people have contracted COVID at work, and the public's eyes are finally on occupational safety and health.

Whether you are planning an event or want to join one – this tool kit is for you! This tool kit can help you connect with national and local actions and/or find tools to build or amplify your own. Other tools that can help you are the Workers' Memorial Week sites (English and Spanish) and links to our webinar (English and Spanish).

of work for good

About unions Campaigns Research & analysis Workplace guidance

Every year more people are killed at work than in wars. Most don't die of mystery ailments, or in tragic "accidents". They die because an employer decided their safety just wasn't that important a priority. International Workers' Memorial Day (IWMD) commemorates those workers.
